Printed by J. Davy & Sons, Ltd., 8-9, Frith-street, Soho-square, London, England., W.

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer. If any dispute arise the Auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to settle it; and to put any disputed lot up again.
- II. No person to advance less than 1s.; above five pounds 2s. 6d.; and so on in proportion.
- III. All Lots are put up for sale subject (a) to any reserve price imposed by the Seller and (b) to the right of the Seller to bid either personally or else by any one person who may be the Auctioneer.
- IV. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and, if required, to pay down 10s. in the pound in part payment of the purchase-money, in default of which the lot or lots purchased to be immediately put up again and re-sold.
- V. The lots to be taken away, at the buyer's expense, immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which Messrs. SOTHEY & Co. will not hold themselves responsible if lost, stolen, damaged, or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser. If, at the expiration of One Week after the conclusion of the sale, the books or other property are not cleared or paid for, they will then be catalogued for immediate sale, and the expenses, the same as if re-sold, will be added to the amount at which the books were bought. Messrs. SOTHEY & Co. will have the option of re-selling the lots uncleared, either by public or private sale, without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- VI. All the books are presumed to be perfect, unless otherwise expressed; but if, upon collating, any should prove defective, the purchaser will be at liberty to take or reject them, providing they are received back within Fourteen Days after the conclusion of the sale, when the purchase-money will be returned.
- VII. The sale of any book or books is not to be set aside on account of any worm holes, stained or short leaves of text or plates, want of list of plates or blank leaves, or on account of the publication of any subsequent volume, supplement, appendix, or plates. All the manuscripts, autographs, all magazines and reviews, all books in lots, and all tracts in lots or volumes, will be sold with all faults, imperfections and errors of description. The sale of any illustrated book, lot of prints or drawings, is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the numbers stated, or error of description.
- VIII. No Imperfect Book will be taken back, unless a note accompanies each book, stating its imperfections, with the number of lot and date of the sale at which the same was purchased.
- IX. To prevent inaccuracy in the delivery, and inconvenience in the settlement of the purchasers, no lot can on any account be removed during the time of sale.
- X. Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money required and deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited; and if any loss is sustained in the re-selling of such lots as are not cleared or paid for, all charges on such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulters at this sale.

Messrs. SOTHEY & Co. are prepared to advise intending purchasers, as far as possible, and will execute bids on their behalf, free of charge. Lots will be procured as cheaply as is permitted by other bids or reserves, if any.

The Property of a Gentleman.

- 105 DICKENS (Charles) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, Gads Hill Place, 21 Jan. 1864, VERY FINE:

The descriptions in Oliver Twist and Barnaby Rudge are ideal, but are founded in close observation and reflection. The Lewes Fair description is built on actual facts, but not by me. From any file of the Times for one year . . . when the Mannings were executed, you will find a letter from me . . . describing the horrors of a public execution in London, and the unimpressible and degraded crowd that it attracts. Distinguish . . . in quoting me between Public Executions and Capital Punishment. I should be glad to abolish both, if I knew what to do with the Savages of civilization. As I do not, I would rid Society of them, when they shed blood, in a very, solemn manner but would bar out the present audience.

The Property of a Collector.

. . . If the example of Boston is not followed at New York and other places, so as to make it the general concern of the Colonies on the continent, there is no difficulty in the case. But if it is, as it probably will be, then the question becomes very serious . . . the people there do not appear to make their stand against these duties . . . but against the general principle of raising any revenue in America . . .

- 199 THACKERAY (W. M.) A FINE A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, 36, Onslow Square, n. d. [? 1856], to John Blackwood:

I saw poor old Smith yesterday I wonder what he thinks of the fare at No. 3? Well, it isn't the dish after all but the welcome. How comfortable you made me all of you! I didn't come and see you the last day for I hadn't the heart to take leave—I hate taking leave and seeing kind faces for the last time. Do you know how I came to write such a prim upright hand? On the 27th a little lecturing tour begins—this may be made better fun for the girls as I can take them to one or two places. I find that among the Whig Aristocracy I am in the deepest disgrace. 'Are you going to do anything to make your peace?' a little Whig Jackall asked me 2 days ago.

The Property of Capt. G. B. J. Lushington.

- 211 GORDON (General Charles George) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Feb. 27, 1871 (in French), to arrange for lessons in that language, of which, judging by the letter, he stood in some need

Je suis bien obligé pour le livre que vous m'avez envoyé, et je le pense très facile pour comprendre.

- 212 DICKENS (Charles) A. L. s. 2½ pp. 8vo [48] Doughty St. Nov. 19 [n. y. but 1839], to James Hall, amateur painter and brother of Captain Basil Hall, who is mentioned in the letter:

I am in the agonies of house-letting, house-taking, title proving & disproving, premium paying, fixture valuing & other ills too numerous to mention. If you have the heart of anything milder than a monster, you will pity me . . . will you do me the favor to represent my unfortunate case to Captain Hall—to tell him that I shall be most flattered and happy to make and improve his acquaintance, etc.

- 213 DICKENS (C.) Eight A. L. s. (two initials only), about 8 pp. 8vo, 1863-7, to R. H. Mason, his photographer, with thirteen different photographs of Dickens in his later years, with three Letters from Miss Hogarth, etc. (25)

 Dickens' letters are about his photographs, in one he says:

. . . I really can not consider myself justified in objecting to the publication of the two large portraits. It is my fate to "come out" ferocious, & I will bear it, etc.

- 214 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Liverpool, 14 April, 1866, to R. J. Greene:

. . . I decidedly object to the sale of any letter or letters of mine addressed to the late Lady Blessington. They were written in the confidence of private friendship, and cannot be sold without a breach of confidence and violation of good faith . . .

with addressed and franked envelope

- 215 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, Tavistock House, Tavistock Sq. London, W.C. Friday, July 23, 1858, to J. Palgrave Simpson, dramatist and novelist, about the famous quarrel between Edmund Yates and Thackeray:

... Like Fox, I should "boil with indignation" if I had not a vent. But I have. Upon my soul, when I picture them [the committee of the Garrick Club] in that backyard, conceiving that they shake the earth, I fall into fits of laughter which make my daughters laugh—away at Gad's Hill—until the tears run down their cheeks.—But this is not to the purpose concerning Edmund Yates. Before I received your note last night, I had recommended him to ascertain, from good sound legal authority, the exact state of the legality of the question, etc.

- 216 EMERSON (R. W.) A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Oct. 3, 1856, to J. R. Lowell; O. W. Holmes, and J. Agassiz, short Auto. Notes to the same (3)

- 217 MITFORD (Mary Russell), Author of "Our Village." Her unpublished Correspondence to Sir T. N. Talfourd (Sergeant Talfourd), comprising 260 A. L. s., 840 pp. 4to and 8vo, inlaid, 2 vol., 4to, blue morocco:

Covering thirty years of the authoress's life, largely relative to her own work. "Our Village" is discussed, its publication considered, its sales, and the small sum the authoress received for it. Her Dramas are mentioned and Talfourd's criticisms welcomed:—"Julian" was first acted in March 1823 with Macready in the title role; "Foscari" in 1826 with Chas. Kemble; "Rienzi" in 1828 with Young, Clarkson Stanfield painted the scenery...

"How Mr. Hazlitt could speak of Ford as he did is astonishing. He can never have read that exquisite Play with the unspeakable name—or even that single passage from the Lovers Melancholy which describes the contest of the Lutist and the Nightingale in the most musical lines in the language... He prefers Decker to Ford."

"... At last I have been reading Don Juan. I had no idea that Lord Byron could have embodied so much truth. It is a wonderful production—worth in my mind a thousand Childe Harolds—I think the great felicity of diction in Don Juan arises mainly from his having thrown off all the torments of what is commonly called poetical language, & thought of nothing but bringing out through all the images high & low which possessed his fancy—by which means there is much that is bad & much that is good but not one word of commonplace."

Mrs. Trollope has actually sailed with Miss Wright to make part of her New Colony on the Mississippi... "they say that in every third house from the city of New York to the log hut in the backwoods some book of mine probably some one of the many American Editions coarse and cheap, & thumbed & dirty will be sure to be found."

- 218 NEWTON (John), friend of the poet Cowper. Eight A. L. s. 25 pp. 4to and folio, Olney and Bedford, 9th Sept. 1773 to 13th June, 1779, to John Thornton, inlaid small folio brown morocco:

There is little or no alteration in Mr. Cowper since my last. But the Medicines evidently agree with him. He says but little, but goes on pruning our trees, and we are glad to find him capable of taking any amusement... Mrs. Unwin presents her respects."

The study of the Scripture text in the Originals, seems to afford me the most pleasure... Speaks of "revival at Olney... If the Lord has raised up the Africans to preach the Gospel in their own country he will prepare the way. To an eye of sense it appears an undertaking attended with difficulties insuperable to any Power but his, at least I judge so of those parts of the Coast with which I am most acquainted

. . . Poor Philies, and all who love and fear the Lord at Boston, are likely to have much exercise for Faith and Patience. The papers say, The people of Boston meditate resistance which I should hope is not true . . . I think the news from Asia is worse than from America. I am afraid the Cry of Blood wantonly and inhumanly spilt to gratify ambition and avarice will be heard. And if the enormities committed abroad are connived at home, they will be incorporated into the immense body of our National sin a subject infinitely more alarming than what is complained of by the name of the National Debt."

Quotes The Pilgrim's Progress in reference to the dreadful case of poor Dr. Dodd. "He set out apparently well. But the love of the World prevailed, and alas what has it at length brought him to? . . ."

- 219 COWPER (William) "THE NORFOLK MS." Auto. MSS. of (a) Translations of Greek Verses; (b) Translations from Vincent Bourne; (c) Translations on the Ice Islands; (d) Translations from Virgil; (e) Translations from the Fables of Gay; (f) Montes Glaciales; (g) Three Unpublished Poems, in all 35 pp. 8vo, 55 poems, 30 having erasures and corrections by the poet (in some instances whole lines rewritten); the unpublished poems are: 1. "The Grief of an Heir,"—"The Rich Man's Heir, his Father's spirit fled," etc. dated Apr. 29 [1799], 20 lines; 2. "Philosophus et Phasiani" (Gay's fable "The Philosopher and the Pheasant"), Diluculo surgit Sapiens et par juga nigra, etc. 44 lines; 3. A Latin poem beginning: Totum velabat nox obscurissima coelum, etc. 66 lines.

Some poems are dated. Many differences between the MS. and the printed version (Oxford University Press, 1907). The dates given in the printed version differ. Cowper's punctuation in the MS. is ignored in the printing. The Greek translations comprise 37 poems; the three translations of the Fables of Gay are all that were ever published. The translations from Vincent Bourne comprise nine of the 23 published.

Written at Dereham, Norfolk, and formerly the property of Hayley, friend and biographer of Cowper. Afterwards the property of Joseph Mayer of Liverpool.

With two A. L. s. of John Johnson and Upcott, written (1) when in charge of the poet Cowper, near Swaffham, dated Dunham Lodge, 23 Jan. 1796, to Plowman, Cowper continues to mend, heartily wishes he could get to work and talks of it every day; (2) Yaxham Parsonage, East Dereham, Norfolk, 24 Mar. 1823, "We are too late for the insertion of the letters (Cowper's) . . . in the Memoir of Hayley . . ." "Must reserve them for a second edition."

- 226 FREDERICK THE GREAT. L. s. "Federic," $\frac{1}{2}$ p. 4to, Potsdam, 21 9bre. 1785, to Counsellor de Lattaye de Launay :
 Respecting his order to increase the duties on Rhine wines which has been evaded. Frederic hates subterfuges. He must carry out his will in this respect or will be replaced. He is told this once for all.
- 227 MONROE (James) Important L. s. $\frac{3}{4}$ p. folio, Paris, 9 Août, 1795 (22 Thermidor An 3), as Minister of the United States of America to the Representants du Peuple (in French) :
 He recommends his fellow citizen James Le Ray, asking for a prompt conclusion of his father's accounts. The important services they rendered to the United States from the first moment America took up arms even before France recognised her Independence, and the attachment the citizens Le Ray have always shown for the cause of liberty, make him wish they may obtain the justice which is due to them.
- 228 KERONALLE (Louise de), Duchess of Portsmouth, mistress of Charles II. Doc. s. 2 pp. large folio, 1702, initialled also in the text
- 229 MONTAGU (Elizabeth) "The Blue Stocking," A. L. s. "E.M." $2\frac{3}{4}$ pp. 4to [1762], to Dr. Monsey, an interesting dissertation on love and hopeless passion, death, etc.; with another A. L. s. (third person), 1774, to Dr. Percy : (2)
 "... If Dr. Percy will have the goodness to keep his obliging promise to bring certain manuscripts in his pocket she will keep away ye prophane." (2)
- 230 RUSKIN (John) Four A. L. s. 8 pp. 8vo, to Miss Woods—INGELOW (Jean) Two A. L. s.—BROWNING (Robert) Two A. L. s. giving permission to include the "Pied Piper" in the collection; and others (13)

The Property of a Gentleman.

- 232 RUSKIN (John) His unpublished Correspondence to his Mother, from 1853 to 1871, 395 A. L. s. inlaid, royal 4to, blue levant morocco :

HIGHLY IMPORTANT. The letters describe his visits to the Continent and his drawing while there. France is changed to "degrading" and "senseless evil"; the Seine reminds him too much of Turner; is thankful he is not dead like poor Keats, Shelley and Byron. The intense resemblance between himself and Rousseau in mind. Mentions his father frequently. Refers to Scott's "Lord of the Isles." Thinks only of his drawings. Gives his programme for the day while at Abbeville, his disappointment with Rose (La Touche) has ruined his happiness in Society. Adjures his mother not to furnish Denmark Hill like Buckingham Palace. Has bought the porch of the Church of St. James—a remnant of the Gothic—for five pounds. His drawing "isn't Turner—and it isn't Correggio—it isn't even Prout—but it isn't bad."

Has been "reading Dean Swift's Life and Gulliver's Travels again—putting the delight in dirt, which is a mere disease, aside, Swift is very like me, in most things: in opinions exactly the same." Is overpowered with the misery and bestiality of the people around him (at Milan). Takes great pleasure in Venice. "You know Rosie's name for me was St. C." Count Borromeo visits him. About his purchasing a "bit of mountain" and hopes to begin operations to "harness the rivers" shortly. His great plan—a point of which is the recovery of true Kinghood and Noblesse, "it is the one hope we have of resistance in any secure formalism to the dissolution of Americanism." The people of Verona are in "perpetual anger." Miss Ingelow will get a photo of Longfellow and his daughter. His appointment as Professor of Art at Oxford—the First ever appointed. Cima de Conegliano always put strawberries in the grass near his saints. Tintoret is "too awful . . . not one person in a thousand can reach up to him, and he is useless to the world from his greatness." "Raphael is too depreciatory—I intensely dislike him now."

Must go to Venice to finish his lectures properly. Wretched Switzerland where "Americans and Germans fill the inns with tobacco . . . It's too late for poor little Rosie (La Touche) to take me now. I'm a confirmed old bachelor." Also many references to his own works and to contemporary writers.

 This correspondence—the only one to his Mother that has occurred—is unpublished.

The Property of Mrs. Flecker.

- 233 FLECKER (James Elroy), Don Juan. Auto. MS. about 98 pp. folio, of the author's first play, never produced or indeed definitely finished though highly praised by Mr. Bernard Shaw and the late Mr. Herbert Trench

 The MS. lacks page 8 but includes two pages in pencil in place of it; there is a rough draft only of Act I, Scene III, of which appears in its original setting, at London instead of Gloucester. Page 58 is misplaced and page 59 is missing, involving the loss of the closing stanzas of Act II, Scene II. The latter part of the MS. is carefully written with comparatively few erasures and seems to give the latest version of the play. It is probably the most important MS. by Flecker still available, "Hassan" having been purchased by the Bodleian Library.

- 388 GELLIUS (AULUS) AULI GELLII NOCTIUM ATTICARUM LIBRI UNDE-VIGINTI, capitals and Aldine anchors in gold, BOUND FOR GROLIER at Paris, c. 1535-40; red morocco line tooling in blind and gold forming a panel; at each corner three foliate stamps; in the centre a large line-tooled hexagon, within which is the title on the upper cover and Grolier's usual motto on the lower; the usual ownership inscription "Io Grolierii et Amicorum" has been erased from the foot of the upper cover; original back with five raised bands, line panels, and a small floral tool between; one corner damaged, lower cover warped and discoloured; sold as a binding, not subject to return

(covers 6 $\frac{3}{4}$ in. by 4 in.). Venice, Aldus, 1515

-  From the Sunderland sale (April, 1882, lot 5422) and the library of Friherre Per Hierta; reproduced in the Zeitschrift für Bücherfreunde, 1912, p. 321; Pro Novitate II, p. 101; and Ex Bibliotheca Froemmestadiensi, p. 39. The design on the covers is an exact replica of that on Grolier's Lactantius in the British Museum (Le Roux de Lincy, 149; Shipman, 265), an unpublished binding. It is a complete mistake to suppose that the designs on Grolier's bindings were never repeated. Another copy of this edition of Aulus Gellius which belonged to Grolier was sold in these rooms on July 6, 1931 (lot 18). This book is Le Roux de Lincy, 27; Shipman, 212.

- 425 GREGORY IX. DECRETALIUM LIBRI V ILLUMINATED MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, written on 216 ll. in an Italian gothic hand in double columns of 47 lines with a marginal commentary written in a smaller hand, FIVE VERY FINELY EXECUTED MINIATURES IN GOLD AND COLOURS, ONE AT THE BEGINNING OF EACH BOOK, initials in red and blue with fine pen-work marginal decoration on every page, old leather binding, gilt back 64/- large folio (16¾ in. by 10½ in.; 425 mm. by 266 mm.). 20/-

ITALIAN, END OF XIII CENT.

 The five miniatures are painted in bright colours (in three cases on a ground of burnished gold), and are fine examples of Italian 13th Century art. The pen-work marginal decoration is very good, frequently introducing birds and other animals and grotesques. See the large bird on folio 21B, the lion on folio 84B, and the series of animals and figures between the columns of text on folios 23B, 50B, 121B, 135B, 146B, etc. There are a few slits and tears but the general condition of the manuscript is good with very wide margins.

On Folio 345*b* (31 Hen. VI: 1452) the writing changes to a second (contemporary) hand as far as Folio 381 (7 Edw. IV: 1467); from Folio 382 a rather later hand continues to the end.

MINIATURES. The royal portraits are as follows:

1. Folio 55. EDWARD III kneeling at a desk beneath a canopy in robes and crown: before him a sceptre and open book ($3\frac{1}{4}$ in. by $2\frac{1}{2}$ in.)
2. Folio 139. A similar miniature of RICHARD II.
3. Folio 198. HENRY IV. Behind the wing of the canopy to right is his chancellor.
4. Folio 235*b*. HENRY V and his chancellor.
5. Folio 261. HENRY VI and his chancellor.
6. Folio 358. EDWARD IV seated on his throne, crowned and in royal robes, with a group of ecclesiastics on one side and officials on the other ($2\frac{1}{2}$ in. by $2\frac{1}{2}$ in.) This miniature is by a different artist.

Each of the first three pages beginning sections (Edward III, Richard II and Henry IV) bears at the top two shields of arms; on the left the royal arms of England, on the right the coat of Margaret of Anjou, Queen of Henry VI and famous for her part in the Wars of the Roses (England impaling quarterly of 6, 1. Hungary, 2. Anjou-Sicily, 3. Jerusalem, 4. Anjou, 5. Bar, 6. Lorraine: her father René, Duke of Anjou, Lorraine and Bar, was also titular King of Hungary and Jerusalem and claimant to the throne of Naples).

PROVENANCE. An early owner of the MS. appears to have been Sir Richard Elyot (?1450-1522), Justice of the Common Pleas and father of the better-known Sir Thomas Elyot, author of the Governour. The Elyot arms (quarterly 1 & 4 arg. a fess gu. between 4 cotises wavy az., 2 & 3 arg. a chevron gu. between 3 towers triple-towered sa.) are painted at the foot of the opening page of each section, accompanied on f. 55 by those of Sir Richard's first wife Alice Fynderne or Delamare (arg. 2 lions passant guardant gu.) An inscription on the fly-leaf in an early 16th century hand reads (abbreviations in full) "liber Georgii freuyle armigeri ex dono domine Margarete Elyot vidue post mortem Ricardi Elyot militis defuncti quondam viri sui."

Other inscriptions are:—"Liber Rogeri Nichols Interioris Templi—pretium vis. viiid.—Anno domini 1514" and "This booke . . . (three lines erased) . . . amongst other bookes at her howse at Totenham high crosse 1581 mense Augusti (signature erased) September 1633."

The first two marginal borders have been slightly cut into at top. OTHERWISE THE MANUSCRIPT IS GENERALLY IN VERY GOOD AND CLEAN CONDITION WITH WIDE MARGINS. In particular the remarkably interesting series of English royal portraits is in a very good state of preservation.

- 462 LEO XI (Pope) A. L. s. "Il Card-de Firenze," 1½ pp. large folio, 1600, with paper seal, to the Bishop of Prato :

An interesting letter of introductions as to the ceremonial at the next Lenten celebration. Observing the precedents created by the Church is important though they are often abused. At Rome where a cardinal celebrates the Mass, they first present him with the incense, and the penitents of St. Peter, who are Jesuit fathers, firstly kiss the Cross, which the ambassadors and the governor of Rome omit to do. One must not believe these matters are unimportant & one must avoid errors prejudicial to the Church, etc.

A most important letter ordering him to send into the dépôts a large quantity of clothing, etc., for it is probable that very few foot-soldiers of the Grand Army will have returned, they will be naked, & in any case the Emperor will have to raise a great number of men. As to effects he ought to reckon that all have been lost . . . He does not know how many of the Grand Army remain alive, but he fears their number has greatly diminished. Prepare 20,000 habillemets, for the Emperor intends to raise as many cavalrymen as he can find horses for.

- 477 TOWNSHEND (Charles, 2nd Viscount), President of the Council to George I. Two A. L. s. 3 pp. 4to, Rainham, 2 May and 29 July [1737], to S. Buckley :
A great projector in Husbandry has opened up a new scene of Culture to him with which he is as much delighted as Sir I. Newton was with his discoveries in chronology in ye Revelations or Daniell. Thanking him for "sending Mr. Pope's Epistle . . . I have read the Epistle about ten times . . . whatever is produced & perfect in its kind, in this age, I see, must come from Twickenham . . . try to get Mr. Pope as far as Rainham this Summer." (2)
- 478 DE QUINCEY (Thomas) Auto. MS. with corrections, 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ pp. 4to :
. . . When 22, or thereabouts, he [Coleridge] uttered in verse some opinions that struck at the root of all religion, though still fancying himself most religious. The young man was sincere, and that, being certain was his magnificent excuse. Some years later he saw and detested his own mistake. California, if it had happened to be his and in his waistcoat pocket, he would gladly have given to retract his error. . . .

- 479 WESLEY (John) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, to Joseph Benson, Yarmouth,
Nov. 17, 1774:

Peter Mill is well recd. in Perth & Dunkeld, where he is now fixt as a Local Preacher. Bro. Watson is tolerably well recd. at Aberdeen. . . . The great point is, To be all devoted to God: In everything, great and small, to do, not our own Will, but the Will of him that sent us. A good Extract of "Redemption redeemed," & Dr. Owen's lame Answer, might be of use to many. Perhaps I may send you them from London. . . .

- 25 499 FRANKLIN (Benjamin) A. L. s. 1½ pp. folio, London, 10 June, 1758, to Pemberton, "King of the Quakers," Philadelphia :

Has received a copy of the Enquiry. There seems to be no further hopes of accommodating matters with the Proprietaries [of Pennsylvania] and will therefore put the Enquiry to press to-morrow. Obtaining justice for the Indians is of the utmost importance and "we shall be able to effect it" though the Proprietaries are on the high ropes. "The Indian complaints are father'd on the malice of the Quakers." Mentions Croghan. "The account you give of our people's management at the treaties with the Indians is shocking! What a mixture of madness, folly and knavery!" Etc.

 Apparently unpublished. Franklin had been sent to London by the Provincial Assembly, to present the Petition for taxing the Proprietary Estates. Israel Pemberton, the addressee, was the "King Wampum" of the Pennsylvanias and was exiled by Congress for his attitude to the War of Independence. Another letter from Franklin to Pemberton is in the Boston Public Library.

Two A. L. s. 6 pp. 4to, 18 July and 16 Aug. 1817, to Saml. Starbuck :

Sends a "press Copy" of an original letter of Benjamin Franklin & promising a real sample of his grandfather's writing and a first print of him. Refers to the Bust of Benjamin Franklin by Caffieri, done in 1777, which he has. "I well remember having heard grandfather repeatedly say, that almost all the inhabitants of Nantucket were related to our Family; and I shall never forget seeing several of them (chiefly Folgers) call one morning to visit him in Philadelphia." Refers to the Memoirs of Benjamin Franklin he is publishing, of which the Private Correspondence was to form the second volume.

- 501 GARFIELD (James A.), President of the U.S. Fifty-one MS. Bulletins issued by his doctors during his last illness, July until his death in September, 1881, including the last three "confidential" reports, inlaid, roy. 4to, half blue morocco

GRANDSON OF THE WRITER.

- 502 THE AMERICAN CIVIL WAR. HOPKINS (Samuel Johnson), descendant of Stephen Hopkins of the "Mayflower," Captain and later Lt.-Col. of the 7th New Jersey Volunteers with the Army of the Potomac. Record of events and personal experiences, official papers, letters addressed to him, narratives of battles and stirring events in which he took part, copied from a diary kept at the time, upwards of 150 pp. folio, in a volume lettered "Recruiting Accounts and Army Memoranda," and interleaved with a miscellaneous collection of military documents, A MOST VALUABLE AND QUITE UNPUBLISHED RECORD

 These extraordinarily vivid reminiscences make no attempt to give a consecutive history of the war, but merely preserve some of the most striking and remarkable incidents during the writer's service. He saw much fighting and obviously was extremely fortunate to escape without serious wounds; we find him in the thick of the fighting at Fredericksburg, 1862, Chancellorsville, 1863, above all in the terrible battle of 1864 at Petersburg, Coldharbour and elsewhere. He records a grand review by Lincoln and "Fighting Joe" Hooker in 1863, a wedding in camp, the execution of five deserters, a meeting with a "charming Lieutenant," a lady who had held that rank for part of the war; and many other singular incidents, besides charges, forced marches, skirmishes, starvation diet, suspicions of treachery and all the other normal miseries of warfare. Perhaps his most remarkable experience was a visit to the house which had been Lee's headquarters for the last few months of the war, the owner of which gave him a graphic account of how Lee learnt the news of the final break-through and of the subsequent events. Like many northerners, the author was prejudiced against Lee, both as man and commander, but he was no enemy to southerners in general, and he shows a chivalrous and kindly feeling towards them. For Lincoln—or Uncle Abe, as the soldiers called him—he had a genuine admiration and affection, though he had little of either for any of the northern generals except Grant.

Towards the end of the volume he sums up his experiences in the following bitter comment :

WAR.

What it means to the Soldier.

Privations.

Hunger, cold, fatigue, discomfort, dangers,

Prisons, dirt, vermin, starvation ;

Sickness, shattered constitutions ;

Maimed bodies, hospitals, suffering.

Death.

If disabled in the Service,

Eight dollars a month, and a hand organ ;

The charity of friends, or, the Poor House.

Glory !

- 506 BOSWELL (James) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Great Portland St. 10 August 1792, to Henry Dundas :

Complaining that he called by appointment but Dundas was not to be seen. Seeks his help for "an unfortunate adventurer" from New South Wales.

- 507 CARLYLE (Thomas) A. L. s. $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 8vo, Chelsea, 1853, to J. W. Parker :

There is some proposal to reprint just now, for the benefit of Uncle Tom and Co., that Lecture on the Nigger Question.

- 508 JEFFERSON (Thos.) A. L. s. $\frac{1}{2}$ p. 4to, Washington, July 20, /04, to Mr. Prevost :

In the arrangements proposed for the New Government of the Orleans territory to commence on the 1st of October next, I am desirous of availing the public of your services as one of the judges of the Superior Court. . . . With a Receipt signed by Sir Thos. Abney for the payment of £105 from the Exchequer; and an Auto. Doc. 1 p. 4to, Amsterdam, 1645, of Gerard John Vossius (3)

- 509 LITERARY. STELE (Sir Richard) L. sub. and s. 1 p. 4to, Cockpit, April 26, 1709—TEMPLE (Sir William) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, 1675, to Bulstrode—GOETHE (J. W. von) Doc. s. 1 p. folio, 1822, with Royalty, etc. (a parcel)

- 510 MEDICAL, SCIENTIFIC AND MISCELLANEOUS. Many relating to Lancashire, in album and portfolio; and a collection of signatures in 8vo album (3)

- 511 MONROE (James) A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, Washington, Nov. 17, 1817, to Sir John Sinclair :

. . . my ancestor emigrated about the year 1745, having been an adherent of the house of Stuart. . . . He settled on the Potowmack where I was born. Tho' young at the time of our revolution, I took part in it. . . .

- 512 NIGHTINGALE (Florence) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 1888, to John Bright, asking him to pay her a visit to discuss Indian affairs; and another A. L. s. to the same (2)

- 513 PRIOR (Mathew) A. L. s. 3 pp. folio, Hague, 9 Oct. 1697, N.S. to Wm. Blathwayt, concerning an agreement with the French with regard to passports, and says the French protest that the King of England calls himself King of France

- 514 SMITH (Adam) Auto. Note, 1 p. 8vo, Edinburgh, 15 May, 1779, sending a copy of Mr. Hume's work to the Duke of Rochefoucault

- 515 THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Saturday, 11 March, n. y. to Chapman & Hall :

Will you beg Mr. Landells to punch out the head of the enclosed young woman according to promise and give her a countenance something like the one I have drawn in pencil.

Here too are a couple more blocks, and only 3 more . . . 1 O'Connell's head: A Scene in Dublin & another of the Giant's Causeway . . .

The Property of a Lady.

516 AUSTEN (JANE) A VERY FINE A. L. s. 3 pp. 4to, Chawton, Tuesday, Feb. 16, to Miss Martha Lloyd, in excellent preservation:

My dear Martha,

... We read of the Pyramus being returned into Port with interest—& fear Mrs D. D. will be regretting that she came away so soon. . . . I am obliged to you for your enquiries about Northamptonshire, but do not wish you to renew them, as I am sure of getting the intelligence I want from Henry, to whom I can apply at some convenient moment “sans peur et sans reproche.” I suppose all the World is sitting in Judgement upon the Princess of Wales’ Letter. Poor Woman, I shall support her as long as I can, because she is a Woman, & because I hate her Husband—but I can hardly forgive her for calling herself “attached & affectionate” to a Man whom she must detest—and the intimacy said to subsist between her & Lady Oxford is bad—I do not know what to do about it:—but if I must give up the Princess, I am resolved at least always to think she would have been respectable, if the Prince has behaved only tolerably by her at first. . . . Cassandra has been rather out of luck at Marydown—but that is a House, in which one is tolerably independent of weather. . . . Now I think I may in Quantity have deserved your Letter. My Ideas of Justice in Epistolary Matters are you know very strict. . . . Charles is the best off of the family. I rather grudge him his 2500£. . . . Yours affly J. Austen.

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer. If any dispute arise the Auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to settle it; and to put any disputed lot up again.
- II. No person to advance less than 1s.; above five pounds 2s. 6d.; and so on in proportion.
- III. All Lots are put up for sale subject (a) to any reserve price imposed by the Seller and (b) to the right of the Seller to bid either personally or else by any one person who may be the Auctioneer.
- IV. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and, if required, to pay down 10s. in the pound in part payment of the purchase-money, in default of which the lot or lots purchased to be immediately put up again and re-sold.
- V. The lots to be taken away, at the buyer's expense, immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which Messrs. SOTHEY & Co. will not hold themselves responsible if lost, stolen, damaged, or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser. If, at the expiration of One Week after the conclusion of the sale, the books or other property are not cleared or paid for, they will then be catalogued for immediate sale, and the expenses, the same as if re-sold, will be added to the amount at which the books were bought. Messrs. SOTHEY & Co. will have the option of re-selling the lots uncleared, either by public or private sale, without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- VI. All the books are presumed to be perfect, unless otherwise expressed; but if, upon collating, any should prove defective, the purchaser will be at liberty to take or reject them, providing they are received back within Fourteen Days after the conclusion of the sale, when the purchase-money will be returned.
- VII. The sale of any book or books is not to be set aside on account of any worm holes, stained or short leaves of text or plates, want of list of plates or blank leaves, or on account of the publication of any subsequent volume, supplement, appendix, or plates. All the manuscripts, autographs, all magazines and reviews, all books in lots, and all tracts in lots or volumes, will be sold with all faults, imperfections and errors of description. The sale of any illustrated book, lot of prints or drawings, is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the numbers stated, or error of description.
- VIII. No Imperfect Book will be taken back, unless a note accompanies each book, stating its imperfections, with the number of lot and date of the sale at which the same was purchased.
- IX. To prevent inaccuracy in the delivery, and inconvenience in the settlement of the purchasers, no lot can on any account be removed during the time of sale.
- X. Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money required and deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited; and if any loss is sustained in the re-selling of such lots as are not cleared or paid for, all charges on such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulters at this sale.

Messrs. SOTHEY & Co. are prepared to advise intending purchasers, as far as possible, and will execute bids on their behalf, free of charge. Lots will be procured as cheaply as is permitted by other bids or reserves, if any.

The Property of a Gentleman.

- 105 DICKENS (Charles) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, Gads Hill Place, 21 Jan. 1864, VERY FINE :

The descriptions in Oliver Twist and Barnaby Rudge are ideal, but are founded in close observation and reflection. The Lewes Fair description is built on actual facts, but not by me. From any file of the Times for one year . . . when the Mannings were executed, you will find a letter from me . . . describing the horrors of a public execution in London, and the unimpressible and degraded crowd that it attracts. Distinguish . . . in quoting me between Public Executions and Capital Punishment. I should be glad to abolish both, if I knew what to do with the Savages of civilization. As I do not, I would rid Society of them, when they shed blood, in a very, solemn manner but would bar out the present audience.

The Property of a Collector.

- 106 AMERICA. DOWDESWELL (William), Chancellor of the Exchequer in Lord Rockingham's ministry. AN HISTORIC LETTER UPON AMERICAN AFFAIRS, A. L. s. 16 pp. 4to, Pull Court, August 14, 1768, to Lord Rockingham :

. . . If the example of Boston is not followed at New York and other places, so as to make it the general concern of the Colonies on the continent, there is no difficulty in the case. But if it is, as it probably will be, then the question becomes very serious . . . the people there do not appear to make their stand against these duties . . . but against the general principle of raising any revenue in America . . .

- 129 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. "C.D." 1 p. 8vo, 19 June, 1847, mentioning "DOMBEY":
My dear Thompson.
Between Dombey and Management, I am one half mad and the other half addled. Here are the Calls. I have looked carefully at the Covent Garden newly constructed ... and should not think the "Speaking up" difficult. The size of the stage, and its roll into the house—leaving a good sized audience high and dry behind the actor—are the trying things—the great facts.
- 130 DICKENS (Charles) A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 12 December, 1848, to Charles Manby:
... I do not regard the Mosaic Arab in question, as an important person; but any breach of faith is most important and with that, I must enquire narrowly ...

- 199 THACKERAY (W. M.) A FINE A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, 36, Onslow Square, n. d. [? 1856], to John Blackwood:

I saw poor old Smith yesterday I wonder what he thinks of the fare at No. 3? Well, it isn't the dish after all but the welcome. How comfortable you made me all of you! I didn't come and see you the last day for I hadn't the heart to take leave—I hate taking leave and seeing kind faces for the last time. Do you know how I came to write such a prim upright hand? On the 27th a little lecturing tour begins—this may be made better fun for the girls as I can take them to one or two places. I find that among the Whig Aristocracy I am in the deepest disgrace. 'Are you going to do anything to make your peace?' a little Whig Jackall asked me 2 days ago.

The Property of Capt. G. W. F. Lushington.

- 200 LEAR (EDWARD) The Pobble who has no Toes, THE ORIGINAL MS. of 10 verses each of 8 lines written on both sides of a single sheet; the MS. has four more verses than the printed version, and differs considerably after verse III; The Quangle Wangle's Hat, THE ORIGINAL MS. and pen-and-ink illustration, the text on a single sheet written on both sides; with the MSS. is a copy of the printed version of "Laughable Lyrics," 1877, also Edward Lear's "More Nonsense," FIRST EDITION, 1872 (2 vol. and 3 MSS.)

- 209 DODGSON (Rev. C. L.), 'Lewis Carroll.' Proof Sheets of the appendices to his edition of "Euclid"; with three A. L. s. and Auto. Technical Notes, in all about 15 pp. 8vo, addressed to Mr. Laverty

- 210 HARTE (Bret) A Belle of Cañada City, Auto. MS. 25½ pp, signed in full, with A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Feb. 22, 1897, to the same (2)

- 211 GORDON (General Charles George) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Feb. 27, 1871 (in French), to arrange for lessons in that language, of which, judging by the letter, he stood in some need

Je suis bien obligé pour le livre que vous m'avez envoyé, et je le pense très facile pour comprendre.

- 212 DICKENS (Charles) A. L. s. 2½ pp. 8vo [48] Doughty St. Nov. 19 [n. y. but 1839], to James Hall, amateur painter and brother of Captain Basil Hall, who is mentioned in the letter:

I am in the agonies of house-letting, house-taking, title proving & disproving, premium paying, fixture valuing & other ills too numerous to mention. If you have the heart of anything milder than a monster, you will pity me . . . will you do me the favor to represent my unfortunate case to Captain Hall—to tell him that I shall be most flattered and happy to make and improve his acquaintance, etc.

- 213 DICKENS (C.) Eight A. L. s. (two initials only), about 8 pp. 8vo, 1863-7, to R. H. Mason, his photographer, with thirteen different photographs of Dickens in his later years, with three Letters from Miss Hogarth, etc. (25)

 Dickens' letters are about his photographs, in one he says:

. . . I really can not consider myself justified in objecting to the publication of the two large portraits. It is my fate to "come out" ferocious, & I will bear it, etc.

- 214 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Liverpool, 14 April, 1866, to R. J. Greene:

. . . I decidedly object to the sale of any letter or letters of mine addressed to the late Lady Blessington. They were written in the confidence of private friendship, and cannot be sold without a breach of confidence and violation of good faith . . .

with addressed and franked envelope

- 215 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, Tavistock House, Tavistock Sq. London, W.C. Friday, July 23, 1858, to J. Palgrave Simpson, dramatist and novelist, about the famous quarrel between Edmund Yates and Thackeray:

... Like Fox, I should "boil with indignation" if I had not a vent. But I have. Upon my soul, when I picture them [the committee of the Garrick Club] in that backyard, conceiving that they shake the earth, I fall into fits of laughter which make my daughters laugh—away at Gad's Hill—until the tears run down their cheeks.—But this is not to the purpose concerning Edmund Yates. Before I received your note last night, I had recommended him to ascertain, from good sound legal authority, the exact state of the legality of the question, etc.

- 216 EMERSON (R. W.) A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Oct. 3, 1856, to J. R. Lowell; O. W. Holmes, and J. Agassiz, short Auto, Notes to the same (3)

- 217 MITTFORD (Mary Russell), Author of "Our Village." Her unpublished Correspondence to Sir T. N. Talfourd (Sergeant Talfourd), comprising 260 A. L. s., 840 pp. 4to and 8vo, inlaid, 2 vol., 4to, blue morocco:

Covering thirty years of the authoress's life, largely relative to her own work. "Our Village" is discussed, its publication considered, its sales, and the small sum the authoress received for it. Her Dramas are mentioned and Talfourd's criticisms welcomed:—"Julian" was first acted in March 1823 with Macready in the title role; "Foscari" in 1826 with Chas. Kemble; "Rienzi" in 1828 with Young, Clarkson Stanfield painted the scenery...

"How Mr. Hazlitt could speak of Ford as he did is astonishing. He can never have read that exquisite Play with the unspeakable name—or even that single passage from the Lovers Melancholy which describes the contest of the Lutist and the Nightingale in the most musical lines in the language... He prefers Decker to Ford."

"... At last I have been reading Don Juan. I had no idea that Lord Byron could have embodied so much truth. It is a wonderful production—worth in my mind a thousand Childe Harolds—I think the great felicity of diction in Don Juan arises mainly from his having thrown off all the torments of what is commonly called poetical language, & thought of nothing but bringing out through all the images high & low which possessed his fancy—by which means there is much that is bad & much that is good but not one word of commonplace."

Mrs. Trollope has actually sailed with Miss Wright to make part of her New Colony on the Mississippi... "they say that in every third house from the city of New York to the log hut in the backwoods some book of mine probably some one of the many American Editions coarse and cheap, & thumb'd & dirty will be sure to be found."

- 218 NEWTON (John), friend of the poet Cowper. Eight A. L. s., 25 pp. 4to and folio, Olney and Bedford, 9th Sept. 1773 to 13th June, 1779, to John Thornton, inlaid small folio brown morocco:

There is little or no alteration in Mr. Cowper since my last. But the Medicines evidently agree with him. He says but little, but goes on pruning our trees, and we are glad to find him capable of taking any amusement... Mrs. Unwin presents her respects."

The study of the Scripture text in the Originals, seems to afford me the most pleasure... Speaks of "revival at Olney... If the Lord has raised up the Africans to preach the Gospel in their own country he will prepare the way. To an eye of sense it appears an undertaking attended with difficulties insuperable to any Power but his; at least I judge so of those parts of the Coast with which I am most acquainted

... Poor Philies, and all who love and fear the Lord at Boston, are likely to have much exercise for Faith and Patience. The papers say, The people of Boston meditate resistance which I should hope is not true ... I think the news from Asia is worse than from America. I am afraid the Cry of Blood wantonly and inhumanly spilt to gratify ambition and avarice will be heard. And if the enormities committed abroad are connived at home, they will be incorporated into the immense body of our National sin a subject infinitely more alarming than what is complained of by the name of the National Debt."

Quotes The Pilgrim's Progress in reference to the dreadful case of poor Dr. Dodd, "He set out apparently well. But the love of the World prevailed, and alas what has it at length brought him to? ..."

- 219 COWPER (William) "THE NORFOLK MS." Auto. MSS. of (a) Translations of Greek Verses; (b) Translations from Vincent Bourne; (c) Translations on the Ice Islands; (d) Translations from Virgil; (e) Translations from the Fables of Gay; (f) Montes Glaciales; (g) Three Unpublished Poems, in all 35 pp. 8vo, 55 poems, 30 having erasures and corrections by the poet (in some instances whole lines rewritten); the unpublished poems are: 1. "The Grief of an Heir,"—"The Rich Man's Heir, his Father's spirit fled," etc. dated Apr. 29 [1799], 20 lines; 2. "Philosophus et Phasiani" (Gay's fable "The Philosopher and the Pheasant"), Diluculo surgit Sapiens et par juga nigra, etc. 44 lines; 3. A Latin poem beginning: Totum velabat nox obscurissima coelum, etc. 66 lines.

Some poems are dated. Many differences between the MS. and the printed version (Oxford University Press, 1907). The dates given in the printed version differ. Cowper's punctuation in the MS. is ignored in the printing. The Greek translations comprise 37 poems; the three translations of the Fables of Gay are all that were ever published. The translations from Vincent Bourne comprise nine of the 23 published.

Written at Dereham, Norfolk, and formerly the property of Hayley, friend and biographer of Cowper. Afterwards the property of Joseph Mayer of Liverpool.

With two A. L. s. of John Johnson and Upecott, written (1) when in charge of the poet Cowper, near Swaffham, dated Dunham Lodge, 23 Jan. 1796, to Plowman, Cowper continues to mend, heartily wishes he could get to work and talks of it every day; (2) Yaxham Parsonage, East Dereham, Norfolk, 24 Mar. 1823, "We are too late for the insertion of the letters (Cowper's) ... in the Memoir of Hayley ..." "Must reserve them for a second edition."

- 220 BROWNING (Robert) Auto. MS. "The Names," a sonnet, 14 lines, signed and dated March 12, 1884—TENNYSON (Lord) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, containing an auto. stanza, 4 lines, from "In Memoriam," to L. S. Wood—WILDE (Oscar) A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, n. d. to the same, agreeing to collaborate in a joint novel with other writers of fiction; others of Dorothea Baird (on "Trilby's" foot), F. C. Burnand, Hall Caine, G. R. Sims, Sir S. Bancroft, Robert Buchanan, George Moore, Conan Doyle, Lord Roberts, Princess Beatrice, P. T. Barnum, Lord Bryce (who quotes Mr. Gladstone's opinion of George Washington), Lord Roberts, etc. an interesting collection (81)

- 221 BROWNING (R.) Four A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, 1879-81, to Mrs. Joachim, mentioning Brahms's Concerto, and the playing of Rubenstein (4)
- 222 ELIOT (George), "M. E. Lewis." A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, The Priory, May 13, 1876, to Mrs. Joachim :
 Mr. Lewis . . . sends a mysterious message which I am to beg you to deliver to your Husband, namely "that he is curious about the cigars!" . . .

- 225 LITERARY, THEATRICAL, ETC. (a parcel)
- 226 FREDERICK THE GREAT. L. s. "Federic," $\frac{1}{2}$ p. 4to, Potsdam, 21 9bre. 1785, to Counsellor de Lattaye de Launay :
 Respecting his order to increase the duties on Rhine wines which has been evaded. Frederic hates subterfuges. He must carry out his will in this respect or will be replaced. He is told this once for all.
- 227 MONROE (James) Important L. s. $\frac{3}{4}$ p. folio, Paris, 9 Août, 1795 (22 Thermidor An 3), as Minister of the United States of America to the Representants du Peuple (in French) :
 He recommends his fellow citizen James Le Ray, asking for a prompt conclusion of his father's accounts. The important services they rendered to the United States from the first moment America took up arms even before France recognised her Independence, and the attachment the citizens Le Ray have always shown for the cause of liberty, make him wish they may obtain the justice which is due to them.
- 228 KERONALLE (Louise de), Duchess of Portsmouth, mistress of Charles II. Doc. s. 2 pp. large folio, 1702, initialled also in the text
- 229 MONTAGU (Elizabeth) "The Blue Stocking," A. L. s. "E.M." 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ pp. 4to [1762], to Dr. Monsey, an interesting dissertation on love and hopeless passion, death, etc.; with another A. L. s. (third person), 1774, to Dr. Percy : (2)
 "... If Dr. Percy will have the goodness to keep his obliging promise to bring certain manuscripts in his pocket she will keep away ye prophane." (2)
- 230 RUSKIN (John) Four A. L. s. 8 pp. 8vo, to Miss Woods—INGELOW (Jean) Two A. L. s.—BROWNING (Robert) Two A. L. s. giving permission to include the "Pied Piper" in the collection; and others (13)

- 231 RAMSAY (Allan), Poet. Auto. MS. 3 pp. 4to, of his unpublished poem "To the Right Honourable Susana Countess of Eglington, The Muses Salutation after the late Bad Weather Preceding this New Years Day 1733"

 Ramsay dedicated "The Gentle Shepherd" to the Countess and presented the MS. to her, and by her afterwards given to Boswell.

The Property of a Gentleman.

- 232 RUSKIN (John) His unpublished Correspondence to his Mother, from 1853 to 1871, 395 A. L. s. inland, royal 4to, blue levant morocco :

HIGHLY IMPORTANT. The letters describe his visits to the Continent and his drawing while there. France is changed to "degrading" and "senseless evil"; the Seine reminds him too much of Turner; is thankful he is not dead like poor Keats, Shelley and Byron. The intense resemblance between himself and Rousseau in mind. Mentions his father frequently. Refers to Scott's "Lord of the Isles." Thinks only of his drawings. Gives his programme for the day while at Abbeville, his disappointment with Rose (La Touche) has ruined his happiness in Society. Adjures his mother not to furnish Denmark Hill like Buckingham Palace. Has bought the porch of the Church of St. James—a remnant of the Gothic—for five pounds. His drawing "isn't Turner—and it isn't Correggio—it isn't even Prout—but it isn't bad."

Has been "reading Dean Swift's Life and Gulliver's Travels again—putting the delight in dirt, which is a mere disease, aside, Swift is very like me, in most things: in opinions exactly the same." Is overpowered with the misery and bestiality of the people around him (at Milan). Takes great pleasure in Venice. "You know Rosie's name for me was St. C." Count Borromeo visits him. About his purchasing a "bit of mountain" and hopes to begin operations to "harness the rivers" shortly. His great plan—a point of which is the recovery of true Kinghood and Noblesse, "it is the one hope we have of resistance in any secure formalism to the dissolution of Americanism." The people of Verona are in "perpetual anger." Miss Ingelow will get a photo of Longfellow and his daughter. His appointment as Professor of Art at Oxford—the First ever appointed. Cima de Conegliano always put strawberries in the grass near his saints. Tintoret is "too awful . . . not one person in a thousand can reach up to him, and he is useless to the world from his greatness." "Raphael is too depreciatory—I intensely dislike him now."

Must go to Venice to finish his lectures properly. Wretched Switzerland where "Americans and Germans fill the inns with tobacco . . . It's too late for poor little Rosie (La Touche) to take me now. I'm a confirmed old bachelor." Also many references to his own works and to contemporary writers.

 This correspondence—the only one to his Mother that has occurred—is unpublished.

The Property of Mrs. Flecker.

- 233 FLECKER (James Elroy), Don Juan. Auto. MS. about 98 pp. folio, of the author's first play, never produced or indeed definitely finished though highly praised by Mr. Bernard Shaw and the late Mr. Herbert Trench

 The MS. lacks page 8 but includes two pages in pencil in place of it; there is a rough draft only of Act I, Scene III, of which appears in its original setting, at London instead of Gloucester. Page 58 is misplaced and page 59 is missing, involving the loss of the closing stanzas of Act II, Scene II. The latter part of the MS. is carefully written with comparatively few erasures and seems to give the latest version of the play. It is probably the most important MS. by Flecker still available, "Hassan" having been purchased by the Bodleian Library.

- 388 GELLIUS (AULUS) AULI GELLII NOCTIUM ATTICARUM LIBRI UNDE-VIGINTI, capitals and Aldine anchors in gold, BOUND FOR GROLIER at Paris, c. 1535-40; red morocco line tooling in blind and gold forming a panel; at each corner three foliate stamps; in the centre a large line-tooled hexagon, within which is the title on the upper cover and Grolier's usual motto on the lower; the usual ownership inscription "Io Grolierii et Amicorum" has been erased from the foot of the upper cover; original back with five raised bands, line panels, and a small floral tool between; one corner damaged, lower cover warped and discoloured; sold as a binding, not subject to return

(covers $6\frac{3}{4}$ in. by 4 in.). Venice, Aldus, 1515

-  From the Sunderland sale (April, 1882, lot 5422) and the library of Friherre Per Hierta; reproduced in the Zeitschrift für Bücherfreunde, 1912, p. 321; Pro Novitate II, p. 101; and Ex Bibliotheca Froemmestadiensi, p. 39. The design on the covers is an exact replica of that on Grolier's Lactantius in the British Museum (Le Roux de Lincy, 149; Shipman, 265), an unpublished binding. It is a complete mistake to suppose that the designs on Grolier's bindings were never repeated. Another copy of this edition of Aulus Gellius which belonged to Grolier was sold in these rooms on July 6, 1931 (lot 18). This book is Le Roux de Lincy, 27; Shipman, 212.

ITALIAN, END OF XIII CENT.
* The five miniatures are painted in bright colours (in three cases on a ground of burnished gold), and are fine examples of Italian 13th Century art. The pen-work marginal decoration is very good, frequently introducing birds and other animals and grotesques. See the large bird on folio 21B, the lion on folio 84B, and the series of animals and figures between the columns of text on folios 23B, 50B, 121B, 135B, 146B, etc. There are a few slits and tears but the general condition of the manuscript is good with very wide margins.

On Folio 345*b* (31 Hen. VI: 1452) the writing changes to a second (contemporary) hand as far as Folio 381 (7 Edw. IV: 1467); from Folio 382 a rather later hand continues to the end.

MINIATURES. The royal portraits are as follows:

1. Folio 55. EDWARD III kneeling at a desk beneath a canopy in robes and crown: before him a sceptre and open book (3¼ in. by 2½ in.)

2. Folio 139. A similar miniature of RICHARD II.

3. Folio 198. HENRY IV. Behind the wing of the canopy to right is his chancellor.

4. Folio 235*b*. HENRY V and his chancellor.

5. Folio 261. HENRY VI and his chancellor.

6. Folio 358. EDWARD IV seated on his throne, crowned and in royal robes, with a group of ecclesiastics on one side and officials on the other (2½ in. by 2½ in.) This miniature is by a different artist.

Each of the first three pages beginning sections (Edward III, Richard II and Henry IV) bears at the top two shields of arms; on the left the royal arms of England, on the right the coat of Margaret of Anjou, Queen of Henry VI and famous for her part in the Wars of the Roses (England impaling quarterly of 6, 1. Hungary, 2. Anjou-Sicily, 3. Jerusalem, 4. Anjou, 5. Bar, 6. Lorraine: her father René, Duke of Anjou, Lorraine and Bar, was also titular King of Hungary and Jerusalem and claimant to the throne of Naples).

PROVENANCE. An early owner of the MS. appears to have been Sir Richard Elyot (?1450-1522), Justice of the Common Pleas and father of the better-known Sir Thomas Elyot, author of the Governour. The Elyot arms (quarterly 1 & 4 arg. a fess gu. between 4 cotises wavy az., 2 & 3 arg. a chevron gu. between 3 towers triple-towered sa.) are painted at the foot of the opening page of each section, accompanied on f. 55 by those of Sir Richard's first wife Alice Fynderne or Delamare (arg. 2 lions passant guardant gu.) An inscription on the fly-leaf in an early 16th century hand reads (abbreviations in full) "liber Georgii freuyle armigeri ex dono domine Margarete Elyot vidue post mortem Ricardi Elyot militis defuncti quondam viri sui."

Other inscriptions are:—"Liber Rogeri Nichols Interioris Templi—pretium vis. viiid.—Anno domini 1514" and "This booke . . . (three lines erased) . . . amongst other bookes at her howse at Totenham high crosse 1581 mense Augusti (signature erased) September 1633."

The first two marginal borders have been slightly cut into at top. OTHERWISE THE MANUSCRIPT IS GENERALLY IN VERY GOOD AND CLEAN CONDITION WITH WIDE MARGINS. In particular the remarkably interesting series of English royal portraits is in a very good state of preservation.

- 462 LEO XI (Pope) A. L. s. "Il Card-de Firenze," 1½ pp. large folio, 1600, with paper seal, to the Bishop of Prato :

An interesting letter of introductions as to the ceremonial at the next Lenten celebration. Observing the precedents created by the Church is important though they are often abused. At Rome where a cardinal celebrates the Mass, they first present him with the incense, and the penitents of St. Peter, who are Jesuit fathers, firstly kiss the Cross, which the ambassadors and the governor of Rome omit to do. One must not believe these matters are unimportant & one must avoid errors prejudicial to the Church, etc.

A most important letter ordering him to send into the dépôts a large quantity of clothing, etc., for it is probable that very few foot-soldiers of the Grand Army will have returned, they will be naked, & in any case the Emperor will have to raise a great number of men. As to effects he ought to reckon that all have been lost . . . He does not know how many of the Grand Army remain alive, but he fears their number has greatly diminished. Prepare 20,000 habillemens, for the Emperor intends to raise as many cavalymen as he can find horses for.

J. Metcalfe of Meerat, Two A. L. s.; Manuscript Book of Household Expenditure, 1782-94; and others (a parcel)
- 483 CORNBURY (Edward Lord), Governor of New York. A. L. s. London, 30th October, 1697, to his father Lord Clarendon, pleading for help in his desperate financial situation after an imprudent marriage
- 484 HENRI IV. A. L. s. 1 full page, large folio [1595], with auto. address to Villeroy, a fine historical letter about Marshal Biron and the siege of Cambria:
- He has had a letter from Biron and is not in the least astonished at his hope of doing all that is possible. Villeroy has done well to send Biron's advice about the truce of Bresse which the King considers to be very necessary.
- This letter indicates besides the King's journey from Lyons to Paris in the autumn of 1595.
- MARGUERITE DE NAVARRE. "Reine des Reines," author of the "Heptameron." Doc. s. "Marguerite," obl. folio, vellum, 30 Augt. 1538
- 485 HENRY VIII. Doc. s. on vellum, Greenwich, 1 Nov. 1516, swearing to keep the Treaty of Peace and Concord between himself, the Emperor Maximilian and Kings John and Charles of Castile, Leon, Granada, Aragon, etc. begun and concluded 29th Oct. 1516, enclosed in a morocco portfolio
-  The Ratification of the Treaty of London, 1516, of which the Public Record Office, London, possesses a transcript only.

- 498 DOUGLAS (James, Earl of Morton), Regent of Scotland. L. s. "James Regent," 1 p. folio, Holyrood, 2 Nov. 1573, to Queen Elizabeth, about the loss of the ship Good Fortune, wilfully run underseas by the ship Undersoul

- 499 FRANKLIN (Benjamin) A. L. s. 1½ pp. folio, London, 10 June, 1758, to Pemberton, "King of the Quakers," Philadelphia :

Has received a copy of the Enquiry. There seems to be no further hopes of accommodating matters with the Proprietaries [of Pennsylvania] and will therefore put the Enquiry to press to-morrow. Obtaining justice for the Indians is of the utmost importance and "we shall be able to effect it" though the Proprietaries are on the high ropes. "The Indian complaints are father'd on the malice of the Quakers." Mentions Croghan. "The account you give of our people's management at the treaties with the Indians is shocking! What a mixture of madness, folly and knavery!" Etc.

 Apparently unpublished. Franklin had been sent to London by the Provincial Assembly, to present the Petition for taxing the Proprietary Estates. Israel Pemberton, the addressee, was the "King Wampum" of the Pennsylvanias and was exiled by Congress for his attitude to the War of Independence. Another letter from Franklin to Pemberton is in the Boston Public Library.

- 500 [FRANKLIN (B.)] Doc. s. by Z. Garrett and George Meade, 4to, Philadelphia, 12th Dec. 1769, draft to pay Benjamin Franklin £200—FRANKLIN (W. T.), grandson of Benjamin Franklin.

Two A. L. s. 6 pp. 4to, 18 July and 16 Aug. 1817, to Saml. Starbuck :

Sends a "press Copy" of an original letter of Benjamin Franklin & promising a real sample of his grandfather's writing and a first print of him. Refers to the Bust of Benjamin Franklin by Caffieri, done in 1777, which he has. "I well remember having heard grandfather repeatedly say, that almost all the inhabitants of Nantucket were related to our Family; and I shall never forget seeing several of them (chiefly Folgers) call one morning to visit him in Philadelphia." Refers to the Memoirs of Benjamin Franklin he is publishing, of which the Private Correspondence was to form the second volumne.

- 501 GARFIELD (James A.), President of the U.S. Fifty-one MS. Bulletins issued by his doctors during his last illness, July until his death in September, 1881, including the last three "confidential" reports, inlaid, roy. 4to, half blue morocco

The Property of R. Gilbert Hopkins, Esq.

GRANDSON OF THE WRITER.

- 562 THE AMERICAN CIVIL WAR. HOPKINS (Samuel Johnson), descendant of Stephen Hopkins of the "Mayflower," Captain and later Lt.-Col. of the 7th New Jersey Volunteers with the Army of the Potomac. Record of events and personal experiences, official papers, letters addressed to him, narratives of battles and stirring events in which he took part, copied from a diary kept at the time, upwards of 150 pp. folio, in a volume lettered "Recruiting Accounts and Army Memoranda," and interleaved with a miscellaneous collection of military documents, A MOST VALUABLE AND QUITE UNPUBLISHED RECORD

 These extraordinarily vivid reminiscences make no attempt to give a consecutive history of the war, but merely preserve some of the most striking and remarkable incidents during the writer's service. He saw much fighting and obviously was extremely fortunate to escape without serious wounds; we find him in the thick of the fighting at Fredericksburg, 1862, Chancellorsville, 1863, above all in the terrible battle of 1864 at Petersburg, Coldharbour and elsewhere. He records a grand review by Lincoln and "Fighting Joe" Hooker in 1863, a wedding in camp, the execution of five deserters, a meeting with a "charming Lieutenant," a lady who had held that rank for part of the war; and many other singular incidents, besides charges, forced marches, skirmishes, starvation diet, suspicions of treachery and all the other normal miseries of warfare. Perhaps his most remarkable experience was a visit to the house which had been Lee's headquarters for the last few months of the war, the owner of which gave him a graphic account of how Lee learnt the news of the final break-through and of the subsequent events. Like many northerners, the author was prejudiced against Lee, both as man and commander, but he was no enemy to southerners in general, and he shows a chivalrous and kindly feeling towards them. For Lincoln—or Uncle Abe, as the soldiers called him—he had a genuine admiration and affection, though he had little of either for any of the northern generals except Grant.

Towards the end of the volume he sums up his experiences in the following bitter comment :

WAR.

What it means to the Soldier.

Privations.

Hunger, cold, fatigue, discomfort, dangers,
Prisons, dirt, vermin, starvation;
Sickness, shattered constitutions;
Maimed bodies, hospitals, suffering.

Death.

If disabled in the Service,
Eight dollars a month, and a hand organ;
The charity of friends, or, the Poor House.
Glory!

- 506 BOSWELL (James) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Great Portland St. 10 August 1792, to Henry Dundas :

Complaining that he called by appointment but Dundas was not to be seen. Seeks his help for "an unfortunate adventurer" from New South Wales.

- 507 CARLYLE (Thomas) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, Chelsea, 1853, to J. W. Parker :

There is some proposal to reprint just now, for the benefit of Uncle Tom and Co., that Lecture on the Nigger Question.

- 508 JEFFERSON (Thos.) A. L. s. ½ p. 4to, Washington, July 20, /04, to Mr. Prevost :

In the arrangements proposed for the New Government of the Orleans territory to commence on the 1st of October next, I am desirous of availing the public of your services as one of the judges of the Superior Court. . . .

With a Receipt signed by Sir Thos. Abney for the payment of £105 from the Exchequer; and an Auto. Doc. 1 p. 4to, Amsterdam, 1645, of Gerard John Vossius (3)

- 509 LITERARY. STELE (Sir Richard) L. sub. and s. 1 p. 4to, Cockpit, April 26, 1709—TEMPLE (Sir William) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, 1675, to Bulstrode—GOETHE (J. W. von) Doc. s. 1 p. folio, 1822, with Royalty, etc. (a parcel)

- 510 MEDICAL, SCIENTIFIC AND MISCELLANEOUS. Many relating to Lancashire, in album and portfolio; and a collection of signatures in 8vo album (3)

- 511 MONROE (James) A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, Washington, Nov. 17, 1817, to Sir John Sinclair :

. . . my ancestor emigrated about the year 1745, having been an adherent of the house of Stuart. . . . He settled on the Potowmack where I was born. Tho' young at the time of our revolution, I took part in it. . . .

- 512 NIGHTINGALE (Florence) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 1888, to John Bright, asking him to pay her a visit to discuss Indian affairs; and another A. L. s. to the same (2)

- 513 PRIOR (Mathew) A. L. s. 3 pp. folio, Hague, 9 Oct. 1697, N.S. to Wm. Blathwayt, concerning an agreement with the French with regard to passports, and says the French protest that the King of England calls himself King of France

- 514 SMITH (Adam) Auto. Note, 1 p. 8vo, Edinburgh, 15 May, 1779, sending a copy of Mr. Hume's work to the Duke of Rochefoucault

- 515 THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Saturday, 11 March, n. y. to Chapman & Hall :

Will you beg Mr. Landells to punch out the head of the enclosed young woman according to promise and give her a countenance something like the one I have drawn in pencil.

Here too are a couple more blocks, and only 3 more . . . 1 O'Connell's head: A Scene in Dublin & another of the Giant's Causeway . . .

The Property of a Lady.

516 AUSTEN (JANE) A VERY FINE A. L. s. 3 pp. 4to, Chawton, Tuesday, Feb. 16, to Miss Martha Lloyd, in excellent preservation:

My dear Martha,

. . . We read of the Pyramus being returned into Port with interest—& fear Mrs D. D. will be regretting that she came away so soon. . . . I am obliged to you for your enquiries about Northamptonshire, but do not wish you to renew them, as I am sure of getting the intelligence I want from Henry, to whom I can apply at some convenient moment “sans peur et sans reproche.” I suppose all the World is sitting in Judgement upon the Princess of Wales’ Letter. Poor Woman, I shall support her as long as I can, because she is a Woman, & because I hate her Husband—but I can hardly forgive her for calling herself “attached & affectionate” to a Man whom she must detest—& the intimacy said to subsist between her & Lady Oxford is bad—I do not know what to do about it:—but if I must give up the Princess, I am resolved at least always to think she would have been respectable, if the Prince has behaved only tolerably by her at first. . . . Cassandra has been rather out of luck at Marydown—but that is a House, in which one is tolerably independent of weather. . . . Now I think I may in Quantity have deserved your Letter. My Ideas of Justice in Epistolary Matters are you know very strict. . . . Charles is the best off of the family. I rather grudge him his 2500£. . . . Yours affly J. Austen.
